

Improving lives one blanket at a time.

Francesco Mufarech, Marcelo Makhlouf, Ainocha Siucho and Miguel Uccelli from Colegio Roosevelt: The American School of Lima

Introduction to the Issue

- Poor people do not have access to basic needs to protect them from the cold of the winter.
- Many people that die during the winter because of the low temperatures.
- People don't recycle mostly because they don't know where their trash is going to.

GOAL, NEED, and COMMUNITY

Our goal is to provide rural communities with blankets made out of 100% post consumed PET so they can keep warm during winter.

People need blankets to keep warm during winter.

First Blanket Delivery: Instituto Nacional de enfermedades Neoplásicas (INEN)

What prior learning did you have related to this project?

- Many people died during the winter, mostly in the Andes
- We knew that recycling was a big problem in peru
- We knew that peruvian communities suffer in the winter

What subject-specific knowledge did you have related to this subject?

Started to research ways to recycle plastic.

We found that we could make blankets out of plastic so we looked at companies that would do the process in lima.

We got in contact with Gexim, a company that makes blankets out of 100% post consumed PET that can be found in plastic bottles.

Understanding the Global Issue

How is the goal, need and community you have identified connected to a greater global issue?

- Description: we want to provide communities with blankets.
- Include visuals: The community we have first identified in INEN, the national institute of neoplastic diseases.
- Consider using a relevant, brief, video. Introduce this video to give it context.

How does “Ayudando Abrigando” Affect South America

What is the context of your issue in South America?

We can make a good publicity that explains what we are trying to do and how they can help us, we can do this by having those kinds of short cheap publicity in websites as youtube or google. If our project turn our successful we can also start to expand to others places and it could possible also benefit other countries.

How _____ Affects Peru

What is the context of your issue in Peru?

This will impact Lima, Peru because it will benefit its people and also by collecting the water bottles and recycling then we can reduce the amount of trash that is not recycled and use it for a good cause.

How _____ Affects Me & My Community

Summarize the 5-10 key points of research you developed for this project.

- Include references to all sources
- Include multi media to engage your audience
- Consider using a program like Kahoot to make the learning of statistics and knowledge interactive.

What Can We Do About It?

What was your proposal for action based on the goal, need and community identified and the research conducted?

Reflection: Evaluation of Our Project- Action

- What have you accomplished so far?
- What are the strengths of the action you have accomplished?
- What are the weaknesses of the project this far?

Action: What Are Your Future Steps?

What will you be doing in the future for your project?

Reflection: How did completing this project extend your knowledge and understanding of service learning?

Reflection: How did this project help you to grow in the skills of communication, collaboration and critical thinking?

Reflection: How did the community you completed service for change through your project impact?

Bibliography Slide
